Salem's Sewage Permit Extended For Six Months

Jan. 17 Expiration Date Set After Study Of Improvement Plans

Salem has been granted an extension of its permit to discharge sewage into the Middle Fork of Little Beaver Creek until Jan. 17, 1955, Mayor Dean B. Crammer was notified by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board Thursday afternoon.

The permit extension was granted after the preliminary report by the Malcolm Pirnie Engineers of New York City on proposed improvements of Salem's sewage facilities had been studied by the board.

However, according to a letter accompanying the permit extension another renewal will be contingent upon compliance with the following conditions:

1. Prepare detailed plans, specifications and estimates of cost of proposed sewerage and sewage treatment works and secure approval by the Ohio Department of Health.

Must Maintain Plant

2. Provide satisfactory operation and maintenance of the existing sewerage and sewage treatment works including the regular operation reports as required by the division of Sanitary Engineering, Ohio Department of Health.

3. Submit to the Water Pollution Control Board with the application for renewal of the permit, or prior thereto, a proposed plan for financing the project and a time schedule showing when any major parts and the whole of the project will be placed under construction.

City Council will meet with representatives of the Squires, Sanders and Dempsey Co. of Cleveland Monday night at 7:30 to discuss plans for financing the sewerage expansion program drawn up by the New York engineering firm.

Salem was placed under state orders to make and submit plans for a sewerage system expansion program early in 1952. At that time the Water Pollution Control Board granted the city a permit to continue its present system until July 3, 1953.

Renewal of the permit was contingent upon the city's remitting to the board a general plan for necessary sewerage treatment plant improvements in order to eliminate the regular bypassing of untreated sewage into the Middle Fork of Little Beaver Creek.

Including the present one, four renewals of the permit have been granted the city.

City Council passed a 65 per cent sewer rental tax in March, 1953, to provide funds for an estimated $600,000 sewerage expansion program mapped by F. S. Barckhoff, Sr., late city engineer.

The tax was repealed by voters at the general election last November, and the incoming administration passed a temporary 35 per cent tax, pending its investigation of the city's sewerage requirements and the adoption of a plan to meet them.

and sheet metal building was followed by a flash fire which was quickly extinguished.

No Cause Found

Firemen and company officials were unable to set a cause for the blast, but some workers said it might have been set off by water getting into the furnace.

The company is engaged in highly restricted government work. It employs about 600 persons, but only about 15 were working at the time of the explosion.

The company's main buildings were not damaged.

In Warren Hospital

Taken to a Warren, Ohio, hospital in serious condition were Jack Hodgkinson, 24; Tom Clark, 30; Lloyd Snyder, 35, all of Niles; Donald McCormick, 22, of Mineral Ridge; and Richard Hopkins, 26, of Leavittsburg.

Four others received minor injuries. They were Edward Blatchford, 56, of Niles; William Lamb, 19, of Mineral Ridge; Philip Harrison, 19, of Girard; and William Murray, 36, of Warren.

The plant operates on the grounds of the Niles Rolling Mill Division of Sharon Steel Corp.

2nd Body Found On Ohio Farm

Police Search Area For More Victims

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Central Ohio authorities, fearful of what their search might produce, planned today to return to the farm of a former mental patient which has yielded two bodies in the past six days.

Last Saturday the body of Clyde Patton, a 28-year-old Fresno School teacher and part-time auto salesman, was found in the plowed furrows of a field on the farm of Cletus Reese, 36.

Police said Patton had disappeared after demonstrating a car to Reese June 2.

Reese, a husky, barrel-chested man, was charged with first-degree murder.

Authorities said while they were questioning him about Patton's death, Reese told them he killed another man—Lester Melick, 58, of Danville. He later denied it.

Yesterday Melick's son Harry, searching for his father's body, noticed an unusual contour in the land about 200 yards from Reese's house. Sheriffs from Coshocton and Knox counties dug at the spot. Out of a shallow grave came the body—not of Melick who had been missing since last Nov. 28, but of another unidentified man.

The head had been crushed, like Patton's.

Taken to the grave to look at that body, Reese was impassive. He said nothing on the trip to and from the jail.

Paul Cochran, sheriff of adjoining Knox County, said Reese first was questioned about Melick Saturday, told him he killed Melick then denied it.

At one point, Cochran said, Reese broke down and told him: "This has been going on a long time." He wouldn't say anything more about it, said Cochran.

Empty Gas Tank Cited As Possible Crash Cause

I. P. Hilliard, Cleveland representative of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, said Thursday that the plane mishap which killed two men Wednesday night near New Garden, "possibly" had been caused by the craft's running out of gas.

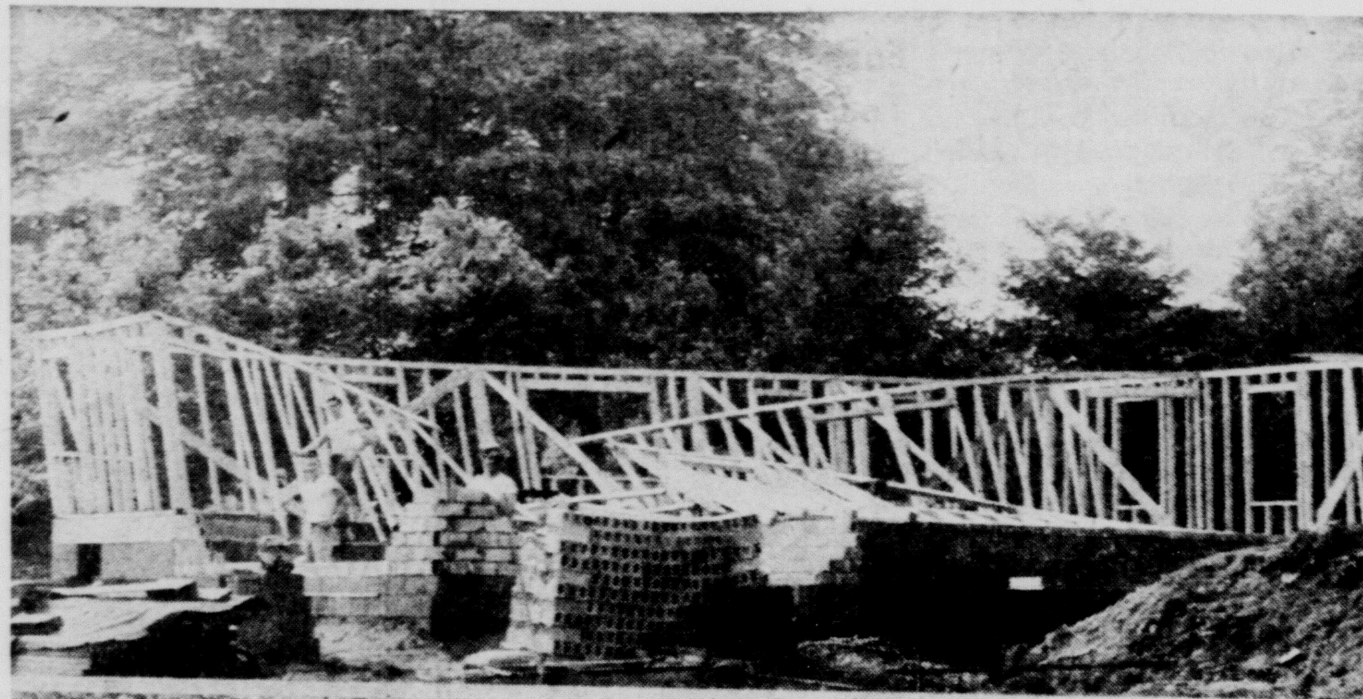

The CAA official released the statement after he completed an inspection of the demolished plane.

Kenneth E. Baker of 186 E. Wilson St., prospective buyer of the craft, and Donald E. Gantz, 28, of New Garden, owner and pilot, died in the crash.

Library Meets Goal To Buy Historical Data

The Public Library's campaign to purchase the historical collection pertaining to Salem has been successful, with a total of $838 collected. David Flick, librarian, said today.

The sum of $750 was sought to buy the collection which had been offered for sale by a local citizen. The extra money will be applied on the cost of processing the historical items, Flick said.

The drive was pushed over the top today by gifts from local industrial organizations. Contributing were the C. B. Hunt Co., E. W. Bliss Co., Deming Co., Salem Tool Co., Mullins Manufacturing Corp., Electric Furnace Co., the Salem China Co. and the Gonda Engineering Co.

Local business firms, the Kiwanis, Rotary, Quota and Travellers Clubs and the Council of Jewish Women also contributed, as did numerous individuals, Flick said.

The collection will be open to the public after it is organized, indexed and catalogued, the librarian stated. The collection consists of letters, maps, photographs, books, early newspaper files, pamphlets, directories, and other items pertaining to the city's history.

Two private collectors and the Massachusetts Historical Society competed with the library for the material.

figures, Pvt. G. David Schine, millionaire draftee whose Army service has become a national issue, apparently will not take the witness chair, to which McCarthy returns today.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, at a closed session last night, voted 4-3 on party lines to confine testimony to McCarthy, his chief counsel Roy Cohn and the subcommittee's staff director Frank Carr.

This precluded Schine and Clark Clifford, onetime legal counsel to former President Truman, both of whom Democratic committee members wish to call. Sen. Mundt (R-SD), committee chairman, reportedly said, however, that he would change his vote if either Schine or Clifford wrote him asking to take the stand.

Motion By Dirksen
Last night's vote came on a motion by Sen. Dirksen (R-III). Left open was the question whether sworn statements might be resorted to later to fill out any gaps in the several-times-told tale of the McCarthy camp's difficulties with white caps and gowns and the 85 boys in dark blue, marched into the auditorium to music by the Salem High School band. Rev. R. J. Hunter gave the invocation and at the close of the program Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney pronounced benediction.

Class president, Charles Jones welcomed the audience in opening the program highlighted by orations by Nora Guiler and Sandy Hansell.

Miss Guiler traced the history of the class of '54 through Salem High School and pointed out what had been accomplished by the seniors. She said that "they had come through school, gaining a foundation to live by."

In conclusion she declared that "now we have our blueprint for living and our lives will be worthwhile." "Blue Print for Living" was her theme.

Sandy Hansell, in his oration on "A Tree Grows in Salem," extolled the virtues of the tree.

Big Trees, TV Antennas Felled North Of City

Some Homes Damaged; Electric Service Out In Scattered Areas

A thunderstorm of cyclonic proportions struck the northern part of Salem Thursday evening, causing unestimated damage.

The storm seemed to center in the region between the Ellsworth and Albany Roads immediately north of the city.

Big trees were felled, sizable branches of other trees were broken off, homes were damaged, television antennas were bent or broken, and electric service was interrupted throughout most of the city.

Fortunately, no personal injury accidents were reported as a result of the storm.

The storm diminished as it swept eastward but near Columbiana lightning struck and set fire to the home of Glenn Dyke at the junction of Routes 7 and 14. Columbiana firemen halted the spread of the fire between the weatherboarding and plaster.

Power Failure Severe

Electrical power service interruptions were the worst here in Salem than in many years, it was reported by Arthur V. Smith, Ohio Edison Co. plant superintendent.

Ohio Edison crews worked all through the night to restore power to homes in the areas of N. Ellsworth Ave., East and West State St. and S. Lincoln Ave.

Service was restored in most areas by 1:30 a.m., although power was off in the Ellsworth Ave. and Ellsworth Rd. district until 5 a.m. The storm struck before 8 o'clock.

Falling trees and tree limbs broke Ohio Edison lines, but lightning damage to transformers and auxiliary equipment was "most severe," Mr. Smith said.

He said the storm also affected power service to homes in Leetonia, New Waterford and East Palestine.

Two New Homes Damaged
The winds, accompanied by lightning and hail in the northern part of Salem, knocked over large trees in a mile-wide section immediately north of the city.

One tree fell on a home Fred Dominick was constructing in a new allotment west of the Albany Rd. The tree smashed in the basement walls and floor joists to the extent that the house will have to be completely rebuilt.

Immediately to the north of the Dominick home, the frame walls of a home Al Linder is building were twisted.

TV antennas were bent and broken at some homes. At others they were unremoved. Awnings on some residences were ripped apart.

City and state highway department crews were at work early this morning cleaning up fallen tree limbs.

Some people were still deprived of telephone service late this morning as a result of damage wrought by the storm, J. R. Stiver, plant superintendent of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here, said.

Service crews worked until 11:30 last night to repair the damages, which were considerable, although not as great as had at first been expected, he said.

Falling trees brought down some lines in the northern end of the city and its outlying district. Collapsing power cables burned out several other lines.

Crop Control Program Fails To Halt Big Wheat Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal crop control program is failing to halt the accumulation of a bigger surplus of wheat.

An Agriculture Department report indicated yesterday that this year's wheat harvest may add another 100 million bushels to a record surplus or reserve supply of 875 million bushels stored from past crops, most of it under government price supports.

A wheat control program set up for this year's wheat crop called for a 20 per cent reduction in plantings. The program carries penalties for growers selling more than sales quotas allotted them. But a crop of one billion bushels, or 15 per cent less than last year's production, is now forecast for 1954. Except for drought in some important wheat-producing areas, particularly in the southwestern Great Plains, this year's crop would have been larger.

Growers soon will be asked by Secretary of Agriculture Benson to take a further cut in production. Smaller planting allotments and sales quotas will be proposed for the 1955 crop. Congress set this year's planting allotment at 62½ million acres compared with 72½ million planted for the 1953 crop. Benson is expected to set the 1955 allotment at 55 million acres.

Benson must submit his 1955 marketing quota program to a grower referendum by July 24. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting is required. This year's program was approved by 87 per cent.

The crop report yesterday said that growing conditions were generally favorable in most of the country during May and early June. Soil moisture supplies were said to have been replenished in most areas, including some parts of the Southwest long plagued by drought.

The department also reported that production of milk is running 4 per cent ahead of last year's record.

Methodists Call For World Disarming

LAKEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — World survival in the hydrogen bomb age depends primarily on disarmament and negotiations, the Ohio Methodist Conference has held.

The conference, in accepting a report yesterday of its Board of World Peace, called for an immediate special session of the United Nations General Assembly to deal with problems of collective security.

Every possible means of collective security apart from military force demands urgent exploration, the board said in the report, which was presented by Dr. Richard E. Scully of Cincinnati, chairman, and general manager of the College Hill Methodist Home.

"The present subcommittee of the UN disarmament commission," the report stated, "is not enough. Its record is one of futility. We need the larger assembly to bring to a standstill bomb tests and bomb production. The Christian church must speak out to this end."

In a later session, Dr. Harold C. Case, president of Boston University, warned the Methodist churchmen of the danger that "the religious institution may become the goal of our faith instead of an instrument for the perpetuation of the faith."

He said that the experience of a larger faith includes "recognizing that no one has all of anything including all of God."

Blood Transfusions To Allow 2 To Graduate

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John and Theresa Ciccone received blood transfusions yesterday to be ready for high school graduation exercises next week.

For John, 20, it was his 45th transfusion. His 19-year-old sister received her 40th.

The Ciccones were born with a rare blood disease known as Mediterranean anemia which hampers the production of red blood cells. The only known treatment for the disease is blood transfusion.

Grammer Dies On Gallows

Executed For 'Almost Perfect' Slaying

BALTIMORE (AP) — George Edward Grammer, once a prosperous New York businessman, dropped to his death from Maryland's gallows early today for the murder that was almost a "perfect crime."

The state accused Grammer of beating to death his 33-year-old wife on a sultry August night in 1952 so he could be free to marry a pretty United Nations secretary.

Grammer admitted he killed his wife, but he claimed he hadn't planned the crime.

The body of the mother of three little girls was found in an automobile, smashed by a wild, careening drive down a Baltimore hill.

Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator to force it into an open position. Their alert discovery led to a trail of damning evidence and the 37-year-old New Yorker's ultimate conviction.

Grammer earned $660 a month as office manager of the Climax Molybdenum Co. It was testified at his trial that he had an "almost unlimited" expense account. State prosecutors put into evidence love letters Grammer had written to Mathilda Mizibrocky, of Hamilton, Ont., a vivacious brunette employed by United Nations.

He loved her and wanted to marry her, state prosecutors argued. They produced testimony that the two spent at least one week together in a swank Chicago hotel on Grammer's fancy expense account. She testified she never knew he was married.

The burly, six-footer went to his death without a trace of emotion. He had a glass of milk and a bun for breakfast yesterday and passed up the traditional last meal.

The Rev. Benjamin Blubaugh, a Methodist minister, was with Grammer all day from 9 a. m. until shortly after midnight, when he accompanied the condemned man to the gallows.

Doctor Says Research To Make Tobacco Safe

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — A physician predicts that researchers soon will isolate an agent in tobacco tars that he says causes cancers.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, chief resident in medicine at Memorial Hospital in New York City, told a state health conference yesterday:

"I believe that within the not too distant future we shall have isolated this agent. We will then be able to remove it through different methods of manufacturing tobacco or by filtering it out."

British Urged To Find Post For Oppenheimer

LONDON (AP) — The Conservative Daily Mail urged Britain today to find a job for Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, suspended adviser to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

"Should we waste men like Oppenheimer?" was the headline on the article by William Hardcastle. His conclusion: "The Western Allies can't afford to."

U. S. investigators recently held Oppenheimer was a "loyal citizen" but a security risk and said he should not be reinstated in his post. His case now awaits final action by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Fake Signs Pointing Way To City Confuse Drivers

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Unidentified persons apparently want tourists to go through the town of Rockingham. They manage this by erecting signs similar to official signs at the intersection of a detour route and a road leading to Rockingham.

The signs herald the route as a shortcut back to U. S. 1—but it just isn't so.

The result: tourists wander all over.

The signs, which highway forces remove only to see reappear, are placed just off the right-of-way. The State Highway Commission chairman says the commission can't do a thing about it. The signs aren't on state property.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Unless Sen. Joseph McCarthy's reflexes are not what they were a few hours ago, the Senator may be taking on the CIO next.

A mighty important section of Walter Reuther's Political Action Committee has just passed on hints to both Democratic and Republican political candidates that they may get no aid from CIO unless they pledge themselves not to vote funds for the Wisconsin senator's investigating committee with which to "probe alleged subversion in the armed forces."

HAD THESE SEEMING threats been issued by any other section of the CIO's PAC they probably would have gone unnoticed in this day of the telethon. But the source was the successful CIO Political Action Committee in New Jersey, the state containing the battleground known as Fort Monmouth, which started more feuding than Fort Sumter.

Furthermore, the New Jersey CIO-PAC has openly thrown its weight behind the Army in the war between Mr. Stevens and Sen. McCarthy — an action the solon from Wisconsin will undoubtedly take as a personal insult.

It all developed over the past weekend when the Jersey PAC asked, among other questions, what the two senatorial candidates there will do about voting more funds for the probe if they are elected. The PAC also wanted to know if the Republican and Democratic nominees believe the Army or the Senator handled the Fort Monmouth investigation "well."

THESE QUERIES were part of a questionnaire dispatched to the candidates by Paul Krebs, head of both the New Jersey CIO and its Political Action Committee. The questions reflect CIO's irritation over the large number of Democratic senators who joined with the Republicans in voting funds earlier this year for Sen. McCarthy — funds which are considerably depleted by this time, with only about $75,000 left in the committee's kitty.

The New Jersey PAC, because of the significant role it played in helping Gov. Robert Meyner defeat the powerful Republican Party in that state, is considered a political weather-vane in CIO. This state section of Walter Reuther's national political committee was the first to put its campaigning on a thoroughly scientific basis.

It not only has every ward in the state covered, and not only is a powerful part of the new governor's braintrust, but it also hopes to build Meyner into a running-mate for Adlai Stevenson in '56.

Further evidence of its importance was demonstrated some months ago when Gov. Meyner made the former head of the state CIO — Carl Holderman — his "Secretary of Labor" by naming him Industrial Commissioner over the strenuous and loud objections of the AFL.

HIS CIO SUCCESSOR, Paul Krebs, originated the current drive to get from candidates in his state some definite answer as to whether they would vote to cut Sen. McCarthy's funds as soon as the investigating committee runs out of its present appropriation.

It would come as no surprise to me if the rest of CIO's Political Action Committees followed Mr. Krebs' lead. For it is not too illogical to assume that the actions of this CIO official have, or will soon get, the approval of Walter Reuther.

Although Krebs is one of CIO's younger generation, he has been one of Mr. Reuther's veteran organizers, having worked for the United Auto Workers Union across the country from New York to Texas. He was, in fact, a United Auto Workers' organizer until he was selected, with Reuther's approval, of course, to succeed Holderman when the latter went into Gov. Meyner's cabinet.

WITH CIO ACTIVELY on the side of the Army and its secretary in this bitterness, it is likely that the Wisconsin Senator will strike back. If he does, he will, for the first time, be thrown into open conflict with a powerful section of organized labor. For the moment this may not sound as startling as it is. But the fact is that there has not yet been any real, nation-wide open war between the two forces.

CIO has, of course, been sharply critical of the Wisconsin senator. It opposed him during the last senatorial election. Its press and its president, Walter Reuther, have blasted him. But the senator, to date, has not taken on either Reuther, the CIO, or the AFL, for that matter, despite the fact that he leadership of both CIO and AFL is for the most part deep in the Democratic Party.

However, that truce (or perhaps it was just an "oversight" on a very hectic front) appears to be over.

Neither Joseph McCarthy nor the aides of Walter Reuther can back down from this one if it develops into a serious public fight. The senator can survive an adverse decision by the committee sitting for television. But he can't survive an adverse decision by the committee sitting on the Senate's money bags.

This one will be a real war if it gets rolling.

Song Writer, Publisher Will Rossiter Dies

CHICAGO (P)—Will Rossiter, 87, dean of American music publishers and best known as the composer of "I'd Love to Live in Loveland," died last night after a short illness.

Rossiter, known to thousands as "Uncle Will," began his publishing career after composing his first song, "Sweet Nellie Bawn," in 1890. Among the more famous songs he published were "Some of These Days," "Darktown Strutters' Ball" and "Turkey in the Straw." He used the pseudonym W. R. Williams in his own song writing.

He was born in Wells, Somerset, England, and came to the United States at the age of 14.

French Leaders Rally to Defend River Delta

HANOI, Indochina (P)—French and Vietnamese leaders rallied the defense of the imperiled Red River Delta in person today against Vietnamese forces threatening the vital area from three sides and from within.

Gen. Paul Ely, France's new military and political chief in Indochina, arrived here last night with the promise he would lead the fight against the Communist-led rebels in the area. Ely said he had come to Hanoi from Saigon because he believed the commander in chief should be with his fighting men.

Vietnamese Premier Prince Buu Loc and members of his war Cabinet also met in the city for the first time. At their session last night, they drafted a vest-pocket "GI Bill of Rights" designed to speed the badly lagging plans to increase the Vietnamese army to 500,000 men by the end of the year.

There has been little public response to previous enlistment appeals and draft dodging has been widespread. The population generally ignored a Cabinet order two months ago for mobilization of all able-bodied Vietnamese men between 21 and 25.

A Cabinet communique announced special allotments and material assistance have been ordered for all families affected by the drafting of their sons or husbands. Government agencies will see that draftees do not lose their jobs during their two years of military training.

Father's Teaching To Tell Truth Backfires

MUSKEGON, Mich. (P)—Leonard Barber has instructed his son Ronald to tell the truth at all times—even if it hurts. Yesterday the son did.

A state conservation officer heard a shot in a deer area near Muskegon. Investigating, he came upon Ronald and asked the 4-year-old if he knew who fired the shot. "Daddy saw a deer and shot at it," the youngster replied. His father is serving 10 days in jail and must pay a $50 fine for shooting deer out of season.

"brother, are they lifesavers... those extra trousers with my Bond tropical"

You'll never know the meaning of complete satisfaction and endless comfort until you own a Bond 2-trouser tropical. Day after day, it takes you places as freshly pressed as though it just came from the tailor. Alternating your trousers, giving one pair a chance to "hang out," does the trick. What's more — with that spare pair, humidity, flash showers, and time out for cleaning will never put your Bond tropical out of circulation. Naturally, we can show you this town's largest selection of 2-trouser summer suits. Everything from the famous Miracle-Tex Suits (rayon, acetate and DuPont Dacron) to finest Dacron-and-Worsted. And remember this: Bond 2-trouser tropicals cost you no more than most summer suits of the same fine quality with only one pair!

Chronic Optimism

President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser, Arthur F. Burns, used an expression in his first press conference the other day that sticks to your ribs, if you're the kind who believes in the future of the United States.

He described himself as a "chronic optimist."
This is different from being bullish, he pointed out. To be bullish is to believe in a short-term prospect and gamble on it—the opposite of being bearish.

Because his optimism is chronic, Burns takes the long view. That is one of the reasons a president of the United States needs an economic adviser—to keep him from being pumped full of malarkey by Chicken Littles who think the sky is falling every time it rains. That's the short view.

Burns does not think the sky is falling. He admits it's raining, however. His difference of opinion with other economists who have been sounding wild alarms and getting their names
in the papers is simply this:

It has rained before and will rain again, so there is no need to run for the hills now according to any signs he is familiar with in the field of economics.

Moreover—and this further endears Adviser
Burns to all other chronic optimists, he claims no gift of prophecy. In the long pull, he thinks America will come out all right because he believes in its future and has found no reason not to keep right on believing.

So do 160 million other Americans, when you stop to think about it, in spite of all the Chicken Littles.

Better Than Mother's

Since it is being called to national attention that 25 years now have passed since Clarence Birdseye made the deal which started the frozen food industry, now boasting 1,400 companies and a billion-dollar gross, something else may
as well be called to attention.

Thanks to the wide variety of foodstuffs now available in frozen forms, nearly all of us are eating better than we ever ate before. When we talk about the way mother used to make things taste, two things must be remembered.

1. We had better appetites than we have now.

2. Mother would have been a better cook if she had been given the wide range of raw materials which nearly every cook in every part of the United States can buy at the nearest store, either fresh, canned or frozen.

One other thing about the vast business of preparing and distributing frozen food is noteworthy. It has proved something which needs proving over and over again in the United States.

Consumers will buy more if they are given what they want to buy. Hundreds of millions of pounds of foodstuffs formerly not grown or wasted because of bad distribution now are being utilized because in 1929 a man with an idea started a food-handling revolution. It was to prove as far-reaching in its effect as canning, which became practicable only after Pasteur's discoveries in the late 19th century.

The Point Needed No Proving

It is being pointed out by observers in southeastern Asia that the United States would make a historic blunder if it let itself become involved in any way that might sharpen Asian resentment of American intervention.

In Latin America, one of the most potent political elements to be considered is the fierce pride of Central and South Americans in their right to be free from interference by the "colossus of the North."

In Europe, all observers who have made a careful study of the psychology involved in the well meant efforts to bolster European security with United States aid are acutely aware of the resentment created in European minds by the very fact of American resources.

"Yankee Go Home" is more than merely a Communist slogan.

As careful a reporter as David Lawrence,
who has been traveling in Europe the last few weeks, says he is deeply disturbed by the misunderstanding of American motives among Europeans.

But no one who has tried to think through the basic psychology in the situation can be surprised by the worldwide reaction from United States aid and intervention.

By putting other nationalities in debt to it,
the United States has assured itself of the resentment which goes with being a debtor.

By bestowing favors on other nationalities,
the United States has earned the jealousy
which grows out of being obligated.

By merely possessing the power that arises from possession of unmatched productivity, the United States has caused itself to be envied and feared.

The point needed no proving that the price
of world power would be jealousy, animosity, misunderstanding and misrepresentation. But events have been proving it.

To be misunderstood is one of the penalties
of trying to be understood.

U. S. Misunderstood

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Fear Of Communism Not As Great In Europe

The most significant impression that this observer has derived from his survey of Europe in the last several weeks is that there is abroad an almost completely false idea of the motives and purposes, if not the ideals, of the people of the United States.

This has not developed as a result of any one incident or series of incidents but appears to be the direct result of the strong waves of materialism which have been tearing Europe asunder along ideological lines ever since the close of the war.

When a people is interested in itself primarily and counts hopefully the months ahead, as it looks for some magic turn of events to bring an improved economic situation, it does not relish a new war on any ground. Nor can it understand why a prosperous nation like the United States should be building bigger and bigger armaments.

The natural inquiry that such an attitude evokes is: Why does anybody in Europe think that America is voting huge expenditures for armament to maintain an inflated economy and to provide full employment? Or to start a war some day, even if it is not attacked?

The answers that come are always fuzzy and reveal the inadequate interflow of news between the two continents or perhaps inaccurate reporting by some correspondents who themselves are more concerned with the ideologies of the hour than with the facts.

Sometimes one is led to think the menace of Communist imperialism is a mere figment of American imagination.

MOST STRIKING fact is that Europeans seem not afraid of a Communist march against the free nations or at least not as afraid
as Americans are.

Germany is nervous, but a majority of its leaders nevertheless do not want to see a national army brought back.

France has delayed a long time
on the proposed European Defense Community agreement. There are serious dissensions in almost every country, when it might be assumed that the presence of a common danger would bring national unity in each country on this side of the Iron Curtain.

It is easy enough to blame the postwar paralysis on the intrigues
and ambitions of the politicians,
but this isn't persuasive.

There are far too many fundamental stirrings and murmurings
among the populace to dismiss the sharp divisions as merely the clashes of party strategists.

The disturbed economic situation—the consequence of the greatest economic convulsions in all history—is giving the democratic process its most severe challenge. Small wonder that there are skeptics who think democracy
cannot meet the test though it must be admitted that most of the scepticism comes from wishful thinkers on the other side of the Iron Curtain who are watching democracy's desperate efforts to reorganize after a devastating world war.

One hears often the phrase
"American leadership." Sometimes it is uttered with a bit of contempt and sometimes with a sympathetic regret that America itself does not understand the role it must play.

Few Europeans know the truth,
which is that the United States government under the past as well as the present administration has not sought to bully or to dictate
but to guide.

Our generosity has been misunderstood as cloaking an innate desire to improve our own economic situation by the production of more goods for European use.

Our efforts to speed up European reconstruction have at times
been interpreted as meddle-
some and our diplomacy as too brusque. Yet none of these innuendoes is justified.

THE FACT IS that Europeans
have a sense of frustration due to conditions over which nobody has any control. They are likely to blame someone else—some other nation, like America—rather than the unfortunate circumstances which permit the current chaos to be exploited by the radical elements in their midst, whether inspired by Moscow propaganda or by the persistent advocates of doctrines of national socialism.

Under such circumstances, is it America's duty to withdraw unto herself and let other nations stew
in their own juice until they become so badly off they will come begging for American help? Not at all.

The obligation upon America is to bear with Christian fortitude and sympathy the criticisms that come her way and to view them most sympathetically, as one might treat the confused and sometimes bitter comments of a distraught friend.

Psychological leadership—which meant more attention to the things
of the spirit that give peoples hope and tend to create self-assurance
—can do much to reunite the quarreling factions inside Europe and to make them understand the idealism of the American people.

For Europe is a problem which in itself would be colossal in its challenge even if we all were to be assured 10 or 20 years of peace
—which we are not.

The sooner Americans begin to improve the system of communication of ideas between Europe and the United States and to bring about a more accurate reflection
in Europe of American motives and purposes, the better chance there will be to permeate the European peoples themselves with the spirit of unselfishness that characterizes American leadership in the world today.

Effects Of The Long Show

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It is very difficult to understand the role of Secretary of the Army
Robert T. Stevens. As late as March 8, he told Senator Symington on the telephone that the Schine matter
was a s exaggerated. These are the words
quoted in the monitored telephone calls:

"Sen. Symington—I don't want to push you on it but we have got a problem. This whole staff picture is a problem
for everybody."

"SECRETARY STEVENS — I personally think that anything in that line would prove to be much exaggerated. That would be my opinion. In other words I think there has been some talk around that has been very much exaggerated over anything that is there.
I am the Secretary and I have had some talks with the Committee and the chairman and so on.

"And by and large as far as the treatment of me is concerned I have no personal complaint. In other words, when he got after Zwickler, of course, then I hollered,
but as far as I personally am concerned, I don't have a lot of stuff
so far as my contract with Joe or the committee is concerned."

On March 10, the chronological
table of events was sent to Sen.
Potter. It had already been seen by some Democratic senators and
by some favored newspapermen.
This chronological statement gives the impression that great pressure was put upon the Secretary of the Army and his counsel, John Adams, by Roy Cohn to gain an advantage for David Schine.

ALL THOSE EVENTS occurred
prior to March 8. Therefore, if,
in Mr. Stevens' opinion, they were exaggerated and really amounted to little by March 8, how could they be expanded to such tremendous importance as to require these hearings?

The real issue then was neither Cohn nor Schine nor Stevens nor Adams, but how to kill off Joe Mc-Carthy speedily and effectively.

In view of the Symington-Stevens monitored telephone calls, the assumption must be that McCarthy had to be got and would be in a short hearing.

Only those who know nothing about congressional committees and their procedure could have believed that. The slow procedure of selecting a counsel was perhaps not anticipated.

FIRST CAME Samuel Sears of Boston who was accepted and then rejected. Then came Ray Jenkins of Knoxville, who had to fami-lize with the problem. Then came Joseph Welch of Boston.

The ten minute cross-examination rule adopted by the Committee proves that nothing could be done quickly at a senatorial hearing. It means that after Mr. Jenkins is through with a witness, it is possible for a round to take 100 minutes.

Nor are the interrogators limited
to this 100 minutes; they can go round and round to their heart's content. Then there are points of order and points of personal privilege which can last interminably.

ANYONE WITH an understanding of the Congressional process
might have assumed, in advance,
that these hearings would last long; that both sides would be playing by ear, waiting for an ex-

ror of judgment, a slip of the tongue, a stubbing of the toe.

It is obvious now that neither side had prepared a case as a lawyer brie himself for a court.
The Army's case, when it was all in after the Stevens-Adams testimony, was so weak that the entire matter was switched from the Cohn-Schine operation to constitutional issues and the value of congressional committees.

Roy Cohn sat on the stand a week with hardly any cross-examination relating to his direct testimony because of the prolonged discussion on extraneous matter, much of it totally unrelated to the issue before the committee, as Chairman Karl Mundt so often said.

NO ONE CAN shut up a senator and although Sen. Symington is an urbane gentleman, usually of the best manners, his excitement ran
so high that he gushed questions like "Old Faithful" which could not be answered because the senator was so talkative. On television this has been particularly noticeable.

No one can stop a senator who enjoys extraordinary prerogatives when it comes to talking. Even the voluble Joe McCarthy was silenced by Symington's exuberance.

So, the hearings have prolonged themselves as no court trial on such narrow issues could. And the longer it lasts, the less chance
there is to butcher McCarthy politically. It just works out that way.

Don't Say It, Lady

By TRUMAN TWILL

When men's collars wilt and the male breadwinner comes home
from a hard day in the lead mines
with a dead-dog look in his eyes,
there's a line of female patter
that goes like this:

"Honestly, it's a crime the way
some men dress in hot weather.
All those layers of material around their necks. Undershirts, shirts and coats. Those hot old, er, trousers. It's a wonder men don't die from heat exhaustion."

Let's be different this summer and not say it, lady. There are two sides to this, and you may as well realize now, before you get any older, that some men do not want to be emancipated from what they customarily wear in summer.

Those multitudinous layers of material around their necks conceal after a fashion what is, to them, a matter which had better not be revealed — that if they let their necks stick out in their pristine nakedness some ruffian might think a turkey shoot was in progress and blow them into eternity.

As for some of the other habiliments common to the male sex in the summertime, permit it to be said in behalf of the sex that circumstances alter cases. But there are times and places where civilization is befriended more unselfishly by men who are willing to make a heavy sacrifice in behalf of decorum than by men who appear in public in varying stages of disrobement.

Since the distant day when Pa
Murphy used to sit on his front porch in bare torso and bare feet
and watch the passing parade,
some men have gone native in hot weather. Pa Murphy's modern counterparts are to be seen in a variety of costumes designed to permit the unhindered circulation of air — and always with the same scenic effect, especially if the wearers of the costumes look like Pa Murphy. It's no sight for squeamish eyes.

Men who want to be emancipated are not being held back and never were. It just so happens that not all men want to be emancipated, particularly when they see to what extremes of recklessness the mass emancipa-tion of women has led to in recent years.

There are women who can afford to be as cool as proverbial cucumbers in hot weather, and there are women who would be well advised to suffer a little.

This would be true even if some of the latter were denizens of steaming tropical jungles. They would be well advised in that case
to seat it out in a protective covering of bonga-bonga leaves tailored to their requirements.

When the heat goes on and the clothes come off, there is a point of discretion that cannot be passed without rousing the suspicion that humidity should not have permitted to dictate to humility.

Men notice these things. They contemplate on them and see arguments both ways where women who think superficially if at all would not take the trouble to comprehend the other side of the question.

One recent warm day a character who is a familiar sight on the street that runs in front of this steam laundry was tricked
out in an ancient straw hat, a pair of off-white summer-type shoes and a long overcoat set off with a mangy beaver collar buttoned up tight.

Some passersby may have thought the fellow was off his rocker. But not this passerby. A man has his reasons for wearing what he wears in the good old summertime. They should be respected.

Get the idea, lady? You do it your way and let the men wear
what they please. There's no law to keep them from undressing —
just their consideration of the feelings of others.

Whales have very small organs
of smell and in some whales there are none.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

All's Monitored On The Potomac

Dear Ed: Well I am just Joe Zilch and not completely up on Washington ethics government biggies, senators and other politicians,
which is why am still groggy from the big feature of television's Potomac Whodunit," the monitored telephone routines.

One thing I know is that among politicians the top song hit is not "All Alone by the Telephone."

It comes out that a guy talking to his warmest friend and unloading his heart to him in a confidential way may be having it all taken down by listeners-in. They even record the words "Keep This In Confidence," from a buddy who is going out on a limb for them.

I hear that phone business in Washington is off 75 per cent for May and June, that politicians won't talk to each other on the phone except under an alias and that some Washington top politicians are so cagey they now put on a beard before they take a receiver off the hook.

One thing seems clear to me. No matter whether Secretary Stevens wins or loses the war with McCarthy, he has already lost the decision in the matter of whether he is a smart operator in the political sense or is a good man to talk to sotto voce.

In fact, I think Robert is out in the middle of No Man's Land, with his best friends refusing to answer his calls for help for fear a rescue
will be monitored.

Monitoring phone calls is not too new in Washington, but the monitoring revealed in this TV show is monitoring in 3-D. When anybody, even his best friends talked with Mr. Stevens
by phone, he now discovers he might as well have been testing out a sound-truck, unless resued by a top level directive.

If I was a senator I would not phone the corner delicatessen for a pound of liver unless I first got a promise that anything I said would be classified as top secret.

Nothing has been such a bombshell to the TV audience as the fact that every senator on the subcommittee hunting subversives was getting phone calls from Secretary Stevens asking help in styming the chairman, and that one senator of distinction filled his conversation with: "If you are going to play with McCarthy forget the Marquis of Queensbury rules." "If you and I are going to work together we have got to be on the table with each other." "We can throw blocks in Joe's way." "I would suggest to you, let's counterpunch and not lead," and,
"The boy gets awfully rough. I would never go near him if I could help it," etc.

Oh, brother! Has the TV audience ever had a better indication of an every-man-for-himself code in Washington? I will never again hear senators singing "Pals, deal old pals" without asking for "I wonder who's monitored now" as an encore. And "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" in Washington needs a companion piece, "I'll Be True To You in My Fashion."

I am working on a new Washington theme song to be called "Buddies Forever, Unless Somebody Springs a Verbatim Recording."

Well, I am now more certain than ever that the investigation is the headache of 1954 for both parties, that few people will come out looking extra good and that in co-operating with the fight against juvenile delinquency the complete record of the hearings be burned so no kids will read them and get more mixed up about standards than they already are.

Yours in a fog
Joe Zilch.

Teacher Shortage

By HAL BOYLE

Wiesbaden, Germany (AP)—The man who organized the Berlin and Korean airlifts has a new supply problem now—finding schoolteachers.

Practically every community school board in America shares the plight of Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, commander of the rapidly growing United States Air Forces in Europe.

"One of our big problems is getting schoolteachers over here," said the big, graying, 47-year-old officer, who is responsible for the air protection of 35 countries in Europe, Africa and Asia.

"We now have 11,000 dependent children in school in our area, and next semester, we will have 15,000. That means we require 500 teachers for some 51 elementary and eight high schools in this command. They aren't easy to find."

Any adventurous girl back home with a teaching diploma and a yearning for foreign travel will find a sympathetic listener in the general right now.

His USAFE command has grown from 15,000 men in the spring of 1950 to 80,000. It now represents a fifth of the entire American Air Force, and its basic mission is to guard the skies over an area of 17 million square miles, nearly six times the size of the United States.

On the combat readiness of his vast force, Gen. Tunner confines himself to this crisp estimate:

"We expect to be able to minimize a Soviet attack if it comes."

The lives and homes of millions, perhaps the whole pattern of the free world itself, hang largely on the accuracy of this estimate if zero hour ever comes. But Tunner isn't a general whose career has been marked by idle complacency.

"I don't feel we underestimate the capability of any possible enemy," he observed dryly in a briefing delivered to 42 former war correspondents who are making a tour of European danger zones.

His command has no strategic bombers now nested on vulnerable bases of continental Europe itself, and it has pulled all but two of its tactical air units back west of the Rhine.

It also is engaged in the gigantic task of ferrying millions of tons of valuable war material back from dumps east of the Rhine to great depots deep in France, thus lessening the possibility of losing them to surprise enemy ground and air blows.

But operating a huge air force is a much more complex job than just getting airplanes and training men to fly them.

Bases have to be built. Housing, educational, entertainment and recreational facilities must be provided to keep up the morale of American airmen and their families.

Over all hangs the endless task that faces even the simplest household—the best way to spend the available money wisely—or, as Tunner puts it: "The challenge to get the most out of what we've got."

The general is noted as a thrifty operator. Some months ago he moved his headquarters out of 3 highrent buildings in the center of Wiesbaden and into an old German army barracks on the outskirts of the city. The cost of modernizing the barracks was paid by the German government.

Housing has been a recurrent headache. Some 11,000 additional housing units are badly needed. Tunner is trying to solve this by encouraging private builders in each country to erect dwelling areas near new airfields. In return, he guarantees them 95 per cent rental occupancy for at least five years.

This attempt to save the American taxpayers construction costs has run into some snags, particularly in France. Because the airfields are usually out in the country, far from settled areas, private builders have been reluctant to invest their capital. As an emergency measure Tunner is providing low cost portable trailer camps.

He also hopes to send 10,600 U.S. airmen home this year through a "native son policy" of hiring foreign civilian skilled and semi-skilled workmen. It costs about $4,500 a year to support an American airman abroad, compared to $1,100 for a native.

Tunner feels that reasonable expenditures in the fields of morale and welfare are an equally good investment.

"We don't believe in pampering our men with luxuries," said a headquarters spokesman. "But it costs $14,000 to replace a trained American Airman. So we feel it pays to keep him happy in the service."

TAX RECEIPTS DROP

Prepaid sales tax receipts in Columbiana County for the week ending May 29 dropped 22 per cent below collections for the corresponding week in 1953. Figures from the office of Treasurer of State Roger W. Tracy show collections of $29,176 for the week ending May 29, compared to $37,444 in receipts for the week ending May 30, 1953.

U. S. Population About 161,969,000, Is Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau says the nation's population, including armed forces overseas, was about 161,969,000 on May 1. This was an increase of 2,767,000, or 1.7 per cent over the estimate at the beginning of May a year earlier.

Two Events To Be Celebrated Sunday At A. E. Kloetzly Home

Two events will be celebrated Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the A. E. Kloetzly home on the Salem Perry Township Line Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Kloetzly will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary and at the same time are inviting friends and relatives to meet their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Russell whose marriage was an event of Feb. 20.

The Russells (June Kloetzly) were married in the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Richmond, Ind. by Rev. Don Graudman. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Russell of Lakewood.

June Kloetzly Russell will receive a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences at Ohio State University in August. For participating in the O.S.U. Band for nine quarters, she has been presented the band "key."

Mr. Russell, a fifth year student at Ohio State in industrial engineering, will graduate in March 1955. He spent two years in the navy, serving as a first class electronics technician in radar.

The former Opal Stratton from Bluffton, and A. E. Kloetzly, whose marriage date was June 12, 1929, also have a son, Airman First Class Joe D. Kloetzly, who has been overseas for the past year.

Mr. Kloetzly, a farmer, is employed as a millwright at Mullins Manufacturing Corp. Mrs. Kloetzly is a teacher at the Goshen Center School.

Bible Class Meets At Mrs. Kehrer's Home

Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. Perry Hilliard Sr. won prizes in contests arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Olin Muntz and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pike Wednesday night at a social meeting of the I.H.S. Bible Class of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kehrer of S. Lundy Ave.

The short business meeting was conducted by Perry Hilliard, the president. Mrs. Olin Muntz read the scripture and Rev. George Keister responded with a prayer.

Lunch was served by the Kehrer and their associate hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lehman.

There will be no meetings in July or August. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Flick of Fair St. Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard will serve as co-hosts.

Eastern Star Honors Past Matrons, Patrons

Past matrons and past patrons of Homeworth Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, were honored during the Tuesday evening meeting at Homeworth Masonic Temple.

Recognition was given Mr. and Mrs. John Liber, and Mrs. Walter Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sager, patron and matron, expressed appreciation for their work.

With the 29 members attending were two visitors from chapters in Alliance and Minerva. Eight members presented a mock style show and gifts were given the past officers.

On the refreshment committee were Mrs. Earl Wang, Mrs. Ed Tressler and Jean Wang. A class initiation will be conducted at the final meeting of the season Tuesday, June 22.

Social Event Held By Amvet Auxiliary

Mrs. Harold Briggs, Mrs. Melvin Wukotich, and Mrs. Juanita Weber were the tesses at the Tuesday night social meeting of members of the Amvet Auxiliary in the post home.

Prizes in the games went to Mrs. Thomas Gbur, Mrs. Earl Schory and Mrs. Robert Myers.

A business session was planned for Tuesday, June 29.

Berlin Center Couple Are Wed 54 Years

The 54th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Watters of Berlin Center will take place Sunday, June 20, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watters of 19 Wilda Ave., in Boardman.

Mrs. Watters, the former Ada Myrtle Martin and Lewis D. Watters were married June 19, 1900 at Damascus and the Rev. T. W. Anderson officiated. Mr. Watters is a retired Mullins Manufacturing Corp. employee. They have lived in Salem, Winona and other vicinity towns besides Berlin Center.

No invitations have been issued to the reception but relatives and friends are invited.

Lois Stratton Feted At Bridal Shower

A shower in honor of Miss Lois Jean Stratton, given by her sisters, Mrs. John Varkonda and Mrs. Earl Solomon, took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Stratton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Stratton on W. 4th St.

Gifts presented the bride were arranged beneath a pink and green-decorated sprinkling can from which streamers fell to cover the gifts.

Miss Stratton, who will become the bride of C. Richard Stanley Sunday, June 20, in the First Methodist Church, received many personal and miscellaneous gifts. Bridal games were used in entertainment with prizes going to Miss Ann Stanley, Miss Marilyn Stenger and Miss Carol Johnson.

Mr. Stanley's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stanley of E. 12th St.

The refreshments theme was carried out in pink and green with nut cups decorated with simulated engagement rings. A bride doll centerpiece, with four bridesmaids, were arranged on steps under an arch of flowers for the table motif. Guests were from Salem, Youngstown, Atwater and Leetonia.

Program Is Held By Salem Grangers

"Dairy Month" was observed by members of Salem Grange May 4 at a supper party.

June, the month of brides, was observed in the fashion show of wedding dresses which various members modeled. Miss Ila Votaw, who modeled the gown of her sister, Mrs. William Zimmerman, received the prize for the prettiest dress. The prize for the oldest gown went to Audrey Votaw, who modeled her aunt's dress.

Mrs. Lee Mercer, lecturer, conducted a crazy answer quiz and a "do you want to buy a cow" relay. The men agreed to meet Saturday to lay a gas line on the grange property.

A benefit skating party at Brookwood Roller rink was planned for Monday night and a strawberry festival, for July or August, with Master Blaine Hart presiding. The next meeting will be Friday, June 18.

Mrs. Corbett Hostess To Club Associates

The Seaveken Lake cottage of Mrs. Charles Corbett was the scene of the party for members of the Welcome Wagon Bridge Club Tuesday evening.

Winners of the games were Mrs. Beryl Lyons, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Philip Carpenter. Mrs. Edward Berger assisted Mrs. Corbett in serving refreshments. At the party Tuesday, July 13, Mrs. Carpenter will entertain in her home on E. 3rd St.

January Group Told Of Medical Missions

Members of the January group of the Presbyterian Women's Association Wednesday afternoon met at the Salem Country Club with Mrs. Harold Musser, hostess.

Mrs. E. S. Vincent discussed "Christ Calls Us to Witness Through Medical Missions." She told how the money will go toward building homes for medical assistance and nurses in the Cameroon where Dr. William H. Guthrie is on the staff of the Central Hospital, largest of eight Presbyterian Hospitals in South Africa.

Miracle drugs, which have saved the lives of many will be sent to Mission hospitals as the result of the money collected from Presbyterian group for medical missions. The hospital at Canada, Ariz., has called this "The wonder-working power."

The group will not meet during July and August. Further plans were made for the bazaar to be held in November. Mrs. Kenneth Schiller and Mrs. Nicholas Costa are chairmen of the group.

New Garden WSCS Votes Church $100

Members of the New Garden Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Ernst on Route 9. Thirteen were present for the coverdish dinner, which was followed by a sewing session on carpet rags and aprons.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ernst who read scripture from Matthew and "A Daily Prayer." The president, Lois Amos, was in charge of the business meeting.

The women decided to plan a wedding shower party for Franklin Humphrey and Marilyn Honacher, whose wedding will be Sunday, Mr. Humphrey will be church trustee since its reorganization 12 years ago.

The group voted to give $100 toward the purchase of a new stove for the church and to help with a penny supper and festival Wednesday, June 23.

Mrs. Ernest Resler invited the group to her Guilford Lake home Tuesday, July 13. The invitation includes children who may enjoy swimming. Mrs. Roy Sanor will be devotional leader.

Salem Woman's Father Given Doctors Degree

Mrs. George Conrad of the Albany Rd. was in Cleveland Thursday afternoon where she witnessed the ceremony in which her father, Dr. Carl F. Prutton of Baltimore and New York City, was given the honorary degree of doctor of engineering at annual commencement exercises at Case Institute of Technology.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Conrad attended a dinner in Dr. Prutton's honor Wednesday night. Mrs. Conrad's father was head of the chemical engineering department at Case for 25 years and is retired as president of the Matheson Chemical Co. At present he is vice president of the Package Machine and Chemical Co. of New York City.

Mrs. Paul Englert Hostess To Society

Mrs. Paul Englert of W. State St. was hostess to members of the Laura Fehr Missionary Society of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church on Tuesday evening when the meeting was led by Miss Helen Brunner.

Miss Brunner's topic was "The World Council of Churches." At the next meeting, Tuesday, July 13, Miss Donna Stouffer will entertain the society at her home on W. State St.

Services To Continue

Sunday School and services at Christian Science Society will continue during the summer months. All churches and societies of the Christian Science denomination continue services and other regular activities the year around.

Classes are maintained by the Sunday School for pupils up to the age of 20 and everyone is welcome to attend the Sunday services and the Wednesday evening meetings.

The local society holds its Sunday service at 11 a.m. at 217 N. Lincoln Ave. The Wednesday evening meeting is held the third Wednesday at 8 p.m. Sunday School convenes at 9:30 a.m.

Auxiliary Will Send 2 Children To Camp

Mrs. William Sheen read the amendment to the bylaws at the Tuesday evening meeting of members of the American Legion Auxiliary in the post home. Voting on the amendment will take place at the next meeting Tuesday, June 22, when officers will be elected.

The members voted to send two children to the Salvation Army summer camp at Mentor. Plans were made for a benefit Saturday, June 19, to defray expenses of delegates to the department convention for post and auxiliary July 29 and Aug. 1.

An invitation was received from the Legionnaires to attend their installation Monday, June 21. The local auxiliary will be hostesses to the district summer convention Tuesday afternoon, July 13. In the evening the auxiliary will conduct officer installation.

Mrs. William Needham presided when all plans were made. Money was donated to "operation nickle" which will help to send entertainment to veterans in Chillicothe Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Keller Wed To Albert Joseph Gasior Jr.

St. Francis de Sales Church in Parma was the scene of the wedding May 29 when Miss Evelyn Marie Keller and Albert Joseph Gasior Jr. both of Parma, exchanged marriage vows with Rev. Fr. John Kline officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Keller is the daughter of Mrs. Nellie Keller of 192 S. Lincoln Ave., and Mr. Gasior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gasior Sr. of Parma.

Iridescent sequins and seed pearls trimmed the bride's gown of white lace over satin which was fashioned with a Peter Pan collar. A lace bonnet held in place her fingertip veil, and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

Mrs. Norma Hearn of Parma, matron of honor, wore a ballerina gown of pink tulle and lace with a lace bolero.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Martha Sobotka of Salem and Miss Geraldine Burda of Maple Heights. Both wore blue gowns fashioned like the matron of honor's. They carried yellow lace fans trimmed with yellow carnations.

Junior bridesmaid, Linda Gasior, sister of the bridegroom, wore a floor length gown of pink tulle and carried a colonial bouquet.

The best man, Edward Novak, and the ushers, Edward Kuczek and Walter Pietruski, were all of Cleveland.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Keller was attired in blue lace with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore pink lace with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of tallman roses.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at Gasior's Hall, and in the evening, a reception was held there. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom decoration that played the wedding march.

The bride, a graduate of Fairfield Centralized High School, is employed by Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., and the bridegroom, who was graduated from Lincoln High School in Cleveland, is employed by the Cleveland Sports Goods Co.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in the southern states, the new Mrs. Gasior was wearing a beige suit with white accessories.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs in housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high luster, non-slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run besides saving a terrific amount of work plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Strouss Hirschberg's.

Kidnaper Of Woman Sought

'Polite' Abductor Gets $75,000, Disappears

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A young mother who was kidnaped Wednesday for $75,000 ransom termed her armed abductor "very polite" because "I couldn't get out of the trunk of the car and he helped me."

Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith, who was kidnaped from in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor, said she was put in the trunk and hauled to the Superstition Mountains where she was freed, unharmed.

The 23-year-old wife of a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive, said her abductor told her he was dying of cancer and "pulled the job so I can have one last fling."

Manhunt Spreads

A great manhunt spread around the mountains today. Officers were waiting at Canyon Lake, about 17 miles across the mountain from where Mrs. Smith was left. She said the kidnaper told her he was going to the lake, that he had an accomplice and that he was from Chicago.

Her ordeal ended when her husband Herbert struggled up a hill to her side after a masked man had fired at him with a rifle.

Smith, following instructions contained in two notes, had taken $75,000 in $100, $50, $20 and $10 bills into the purple-tinged Superstition towers over the central Arizona desert.

Picked Up Value

The kidnaper picked up the value containing the ransom and vanished into the brush and cactus. He was carrying a rifle and a revolver.

With Mrs. Smith safe at home with her husband and two children, FBI agents and state and local officers circled the area where the ransom was collected. Roadblocks were thrown up Desert-wise sheriff's deputies threaded through the rugged country with bloodhounds.

They were hunting a short man described as 35 to 40 years old, with light brown hair, muscular arms, large mouth and ears and close-set eyes.

The kidnapping was replete with bizarre elements. The ransom note was placed in the side pocket of Smith's golf bag, which was left at a desert service station. A note of instructions on payment of the ransom was delivered to Smith's home in a bouquet of roses. Two other notes were left under piles of rocks which designate mining claim boundaries. The ransom note warned one of these sites was mined with dynamite.

Testimony

Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams.

McCarthy denied under oath yesterday that he ever asked for an Army commission for Schine and swore he knows of no improper pressure for Schine.

Stevens and Adams have accused McCarthy and Cohn of exerting improper pressure in an effort to get Army favors for Schine, a former unpaid consultant for McCarthy's subcommittee.

McCarthy and Cohn have charged in turn that Stevens and Adams tried to use Schine as a "hostage" to sidetrack an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

Named "Instigator"

McCarthy named Clifford as an "instigator" of the Army charges. This prompted Democrats to demand he be called. They said McCarthy did not push his previous demand for testimony from Clifford.

Mundt told a news conference the subcommittee had acted to shorten the hearings on recommendation of the principals, who, he said, were "in complete agreement."

But Senators Jackson (D-Wash) and McClellan (D-Ark) reported that Mundt had promised that if either Schine or Clifford formally requested a chance to testify, he would change his vote.

Mundt, who has temporarily replaced McCarthy as the subcommittee chairman, said everyone agreed that the hearings now will be "in balance." He said if the group went beyond its present limitation the number of witnesses could be almost endless.

McClellan said the action "precludes the committee from getting vital, if not indispensable evidence, necessary to its deliberations and judgment."

"Pvt. Schine is one of the central figures in the controversy," he said. "His testimony should be taken in public just as the testimony has been taken of other material witnesses."

Delivers 4th Generation Baby

When 6 lb. 15 oz. Pamela Sue Schmidt was born at Salem City Hospital Jan. 8 she was the fourth generation in the family to be delivered by Dr. Harry Bookwalter of Columbiana.

Pamela's predecessors were her mother, Mrs. Walter Schmidt, 19, of Columbiana; her grandmother, Mrs. Wilbur Spanabel, 37, of Columbiana; and her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Beulah Burkle, born about 1901.

Dr. Bookwalter, 82, entered practice in Columbiana July 1, 1900 with Dr. Everette Whitehead, who died 16 months later, at which time Dr. Bookwalter took over the practice. He said he has delivered more than 2,500 babies since that time. He is the father of Dr. Lee Bookwalter of Columbiana.

Three City Traffic Mishaps Investigated

Police investigated three auto mishaps Thursday and today. No one was hurt.

An auto driven by John F. Safko, 23, of Sebring, backing into a parking space on E. State St. just west of S. Broadway, at 4:20 a.m. today, hit a car driven by Carl J. Copeman, 28, of Dover, Del.

Safko was cited by police for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Cars driven by Robert Bardo of North Jackson and Joseph E. Loutzenhiser, 66, of 205 S. Howard Ave. collided on State St. in front of the postoffice at 11:15 a.m. Thursday.

A car driven by Mary Schmidt, 39, of 714 Newgarden Ave. struck the open door of a car operated by George J. Rhodes, 67, of RD 4, Salem, at 3:51 p.m. Thursday. The mishap occurred on Franklin St., east of S. Broadway.

Two County Men Get Prison Sentences

LISBON — Sentences of one to 20 years in the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield were meted out to two Columbiana County men, charged with auto theft and forgery, who faced Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp during probation hearings Thursday.

Arthur Lee McCune, 23, of East Liverpool was sentenced to serve concurrent terms of one to 20 years on each of two charges, stealing a motor vehicle and driving without the owner's consent.

Franklin E. Carroll, 27, of Wellsville, charged with forgery and uttering forged checks, also was sentenced to two concurrent terms in the reformatory. He forged and cashed four checks totaling $271.72 in a 13-day period last January.

Both men pleaded guilty to charges at arraignment in April and have been in Mahoning County jail since then.

Two Motorists Fined On Intoxication Counts

Two drivers were fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to three days in jail by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Thursday after State Highway Patrolmen cited them in to court.

Fined and sent to jail on charges of driving while intoxicated were Lewis Walter Hillard, 25, of RD 4, Salem, and Helen Milton, 29, of RD 2, Salem. Helen Milton was also fined $25 and costs for not having a valid Ohio driver's license.

Halt Woman Picketing Theater Husband Owns

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Officers yesterday stopped Mrs. Sammie Wolfson from carrying a sign in front of the theater her husband manages.

The 40-year-old wife, who says she plans to file for a divorce, was picketing the theater with a sign which stated that Wolfson was "trying to keep from giving his wife any money to live on."

Mrs. Wolfson faced a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct in police court today.

Jury Deadlocks In Slashing Trial 6-6

After over four hours of deliberation in steamy, hot jury chambers, a jury of nine women and three men in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon deadlocked at 6-6 yesterday, resulting in a mistrial, despite the fact none of the jurors were in favor of acquitting the defendant, Ronald K. Dunn of Bloomfield, accused of slashing Gene Johnson of Wellsville.

The seeming paradox arose when half the panel voted in favor of convicting the 23-year-old man of the charge of cutting with intent to wound, while the others favored finding him guilty of a lesser offense, simple assault and battery.

Dunn, whose trial opened Monday was accused of cutting Johnson, 20, with a pocketknife January 7 during a tussle.

Much of the jury's lengthy debate hinged on the definition of the term "malicious" injury, because malice is an essential element of the charge of cutting with intent to wound.

The stop-and-start deliberations, by the jury, lengthening the trial, resulted when the panel requested Judge Joel H. Sharp on two occasions to instruct them on the law term.

In the terminology of law, malicious injury is the "willful doing of an act with knowledge it is liable to injure another and regardless of consequences."

Simple assault and battery, omits the element of malice. Dunn, following the trial, was returned to Mahoning County Jail at Youngstown to await a new trial, until he can furnish $2,500 bond.

Court attaches said a new trial will probably not be assigned before October.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery here. Friends may call Saturday afternoon and evening at the Maple Funeral Home in Kensington.

Britain, U. S. Plan End of Snarled Talks

GENEVA (AP)—Britain and the United States were reported to have agreed today on a general procedure for winding up the deadlocked Geneva conference.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had a long conference on this problem today prior to Eden's meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Informed quarters said there was "a great amount of agreement" between Smith and Eden.

It was understood the Western powers expect to end the Korean phase of the conference by next Wednesday unless there are surprise developments. No details were known, however, of Western plans for breaking off the Indo-China talks.

One highly important Western diplomat said: "The failure of the conference certainly seems to be within sight."

Columbiana

Air Raid Test Is Scheduled

Village To Join In Two-Day Exercises

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana will participate in the state-wide air raid alert Monday and Tuesday as a unit of the Youngstown and Mahoning county defense set-up, George Seederly, Columbiana civil defense director, announces.

Word to sound the Columbiana air raid siren is expected to come about 3:30 p.m., Monday, Mr. Seederly says, when the streets are to be cleared and people are to remain indoors. The Columbiana defense organization will participate in the observance in Youngstown in the evening when a fleet of vehicles will be dispatched from here to simulate conditions in caring for persons who have been injured in a bomb explosion.

The force of special police recruited in Columbiana for duty in case of an air raid will be on hand during the alert.

COUNTY COUNCIL of the American Legion will meet in the quarters of Firestone Post, N. Pearl St., at 8 tonight, when the annual election of county officers of the Legion will be held. A fish fry will follow the business session.

At the regular meeting of Firestone Post at 8 p.m. next Monday, the nominating committee will report a slate of candidates for the annual election at 8 p.m. the following Monday, June 21. The annual meeting of the post corporation will also be held that evening.

Columbiana fire department will participate in the firemen's parade in Sebring this evening.

FLOWER DAY was observed by the Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. in connection with its June meeting in the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon, when bouquets were taken to the homes of nine sick persons.

Mrs. Anna Nolsheim presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. L. A. Herdle, and gave a talk on missions As a personal missionary project, Mrs. Nolsheim is supporting a young man, a native of Africa, in mission work among his people. Mrs. W. D. Young had charge of devotions in opening the meeting.

Directors of the Columbiana and Mahoning County Potato Growers Association will meet in the offices of the Columbiana Farm Bureau Cooperative here Tuesday evening to discuss spray programs for the summer and plans for fall marketing.

THIRTEEN MEMBERS of Columbiana High School Band will be among those in attendance at the V.F.W. Band camp of Post 1090, Warren, at Lakeside, beginning

Sunday and continuing through the following Sunday, June 20.

Band members are to assemble at the rehearsal hall in Warren at 12:15 p.m. Sunday to be ready to leave for camp at 1 p.m. The camp will be in charge of Robert Kale, several band mothers, a registered nurse and Donald Hurrelbrink, director of the V.F.W. Band.

Columbiana and Mahoning County fruit growers will have a picnic at Mil-Pic Park near New Waterford Saturday evening, June 19. Movies taken on a Western trip will be shown by W. H. Matthews of Salem. Music will be provided by Ralph Cook and James Smeltzer, of Lisbon.

Leetonia

Homecoming Celebration Held Here

LEETONIA — Twenty-two volunteer fire departments of neighboring communities in addition to the Leetonia Fire Department, participated in the homecoming celebration here which started last night.

Three prizes were awarded visiting departments. Mineral Ridge won $20 for the newest fire truck, Negley received $20 for the oldest, a 1931 Buick, and Wells Twp. Department of Brilliant, received $20 for traveling the greatest distance, 45 miles.

Three civil defense mobile units also were entered. Bergs Bretzels Inc. entered an ancient 1920 White truck and John Yasecko entered his model T Ford, known locally as "The Groucho Special."

One of the highlights of the parade was the exhibition put on by the Wellsville American Legion drill team.

The local Legion color guard led the parade, followed by the Leetonia High School band which supplied the music.

The first night of the Leetonia Homecoming was concluded with the awarding of the evening's grand prize to Dorothy Griffith of Salem. The prize was an aluminum storm door, donated by Columbia Aluminum Co. of Leetonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aiken attended the commencement exercises of their son, James, at De Pauw University at Green Castle, Ind. over the weekend. James was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force Saturday and will enter active service September 2, 1954. Sunday, June 6, he received his bachelor of liberal arts degree.

While there Mr. and Mrs. Aiken visited with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Dones at Indiana University at Bloomington, Ind.

Soda Won't Influence County Jury's Decision

LISBON — The gentle breeze of humor swept the overheated courtroom Thursday afternoon in Common Pleas Court, after a tense, hot jury returned to the jury box to deliver its verdict.

They had deliberated the case of Ronald K. Dunn of Bloomfield, alleged knife wielder.

"Ladies and gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?" inquired presiding Judge Joel H. Sharp.

"No, your Honor," replied jury foreman Earl Morris of East Palestine.

With a smile, the jurist asked, "Do you feel there is a possibility that you could reach a verdict if I sent you all to the drug store and bought you a soda?"

The jury foreman hesitated a moment, then rejoined, "No, your Honor, this jury cannot be bribed!"

COLLEGES GET $96,000

LAKEVILLE, Ohio — Four Methodist colleges in Ohio will get about $96,000 from the Ohio Methodist Conference this year. The money, an increase of $23,000 over last year, will be divided on a rate determined largely by the size of student bodies. Ohio Wesleyan gets 34 per cent, Mount Union 19.5 per cent, Ohio Northern 21 per cent and Baldwin-Wallace 25.5 per cent.

Mexico To Join Probe For Reds

Will Aid Hemisphere Study Of Guatemala

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, a chief critic of U. S. efforts to fight communism in the Americas, stood ready today to join in a hemispheric study of charges that the Reds boss neighboring Guatemala.

Acting Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza announced last night his government would go along with the "general sentiment" among the American republics for such a review.

Since Mexico has been one of Guatemala's staunchest defenders in this hemisphere, her consent virtually assured the holding of an inter-American conference to find out what is going on in the banana-producing republic 1,000 miles northwest of the Panama Canal.

Gorostiza's statement recalled that under the Rio de Janeiro defense pact any country is entitled to ask for a meeting to discuss defense matters. Thus, he said, Mexico "is in accord" with recent informal proposals for a session.

There was no indication yet who would call the conference. The United States would like to see one of the Latin republics take the lead.

At the Inter-American Conference in Caracas last March Mexico was one of three countries which did not support a U.S.-sponsored resolution condemning Red infiltration in the Americas. She abstained along with Argentina. Guatemala voted against it.

The United States argued that establishment of a Communist government in the Americas was intervention from abroad, to be combated under the terms of the Rio defense pact.

Mexico's Foreign Minister Luis Padillo Nervo argued that it was a country's own affair if it wanted to set up a Red government.

Berry Growers Inspect Firestone Farms Plots

Rain chased 40 berry growers from the ripening strawberry fields of Thomas Colella near New Waterford Thursday night but over 60 inspected the berry test plots at Firestone Farms before the storm broke.

The event was the annual Columbiana - Mahoning County twelfth meeting to bring berry growers up to date on current cultural methods.

Robert G. Hill, small fruits research specialist from the Ohio agricultural experiment station at Wooster, advised growers to set only virus-free plants. He gave a comparative summary of 15 varieties being tested at Firestone Farms and discussed chemical and mechanical wheat control.

Sponsor of the meeting is the Columbiana - Mahoning Horticultural Society.

Saboteur with Salt Ruins 1,000 Navy Capacitors

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — One thousand capacitors or condensers, manufactured for Navy radar equipment, were ruined by a saboteur yesterday with an ordinary salt shaker.

Hopkins Engineering Co. plant officials said they believe a disgruntled employee did the $500 damage.

Salt was sprinkled on two cartons of capacitors at the plant. A salt shaker was found nearby.

The condensers are so sensitive that salt alters the electric capacity of the paper that separates layers of aluminum foil in them. Signs warn against bringing salt into the building.

Big-Car Luxury and Performance at the Lowest Price of all

The closer you compare values the more certainly you'll see that Pontiac is far and away the standout buy on automobile row.

In size and weight alone Pontiac offers you more car per dollar than a like amount ever bought before. And that's important, because that long wheelbase is the reason for comfort, riding ease and roadability unapproached within hundreds of dollars of its modest price. On the road a Pontiac is always restfully smooth, steady and quiet. Your hands on the wheel are free of jarring road shocks. You round corners on an even keel... cruise without tiring for hours on end.

And along with these big-car features you get remarkable savings. Economy is, of course, exceptional. First cost is the least for any big, luxury automobile—within a few dollars of the lowest-priced cars. Our trade-in appraisals are notably large and Pontiac's resale value ranks with the highest in the industry. Come in for the facts about today's most startling value.

Tribe Loses To Nats 8-4; To Open 5-Game Series In Boston

Yankees, Chisox Open Key Series

Giants Edge Braves, Dodgers Beat Cards

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If you feel the urge to make a friendly wager on tonight's big clash between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees, you might consider backing the Yanks to win by one run while using at least two pitchers.

The two teams have met four times so far. New York has won three of the four, always with two or more pitchers. And every one of the games has been decided by a single run.

The white-hot White Sox come into Yankee Stadium for a four-game series leading the American League by a game and a half. They've won 16 of their last 19, seven of them in a row.

But a lot of visiting winning streaks have become mere memories in Yankee Stadium.

The last time Paul Richards' hustlers lost two in a row to the same team was the last Yankee series in Chicago when the White Sox led after seven innings in each game only to get beaten 4-3 and 3-2.

The White Sox had a day of rest yesterday as rain washed out their scheduled game at Philadelphia. The Yanks took batting practice against Detroit, beating the Tigers 9-5 on home runs by Yogi Berra, Bobby Brown and Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland fell a game and a half behind Chicago by losing to Washington 8-4. Baltimore took a pair from Boston 5-1 and 9-0.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers continued to share first place in the National League. The Giants edged Milwaukee 1-0 on Bill Taylor's 10th-inning, pinch-hit homer. The Dodgers beat St. Louis 7-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 6-0 and Fred Baczewski of Cincinnati pitched his second straight shutout, 6-0 over Pittsburgh.

Ruben Gomez, who says he will be much happier when really hot weather finally arrives, pitched his third shutout as Giant pitcher stretched Milwaukee's string of scoreless innings to 25.

The Giants never threatened until Taylor's home run. They had only four hits off Gene Conley and hadn't moved a man past second. A brilliant throw by Willie Mays caught Henry Aaron trying to score for the Braves after a fly ball in the seventh.

The Dodgers broke a two-game slump with a 13-hit attack on Vic Raschi and Stu Miller. The loss was Raschi's second straight after winning his first five in the National League.

SANTEE WILL SETTLE FOR 15 M.P.H.—The traffic signals on Wilshire boulevard are set for 30 miles an hour as Wes Santee (right) loosens up June 4 with Bill Tidwell of Ford Ord, Calif., for his assault at Los Angeles on Roger Bannister's time of 3:59.4 in the mile run at the Compton Relays. Santee will have to travel a little faster than 15 m.p.h. if he's to break Bannister's mark. Tidwell is one of the men who'll run against the Kansas farm boy. Santee has reached 4:00.6.

Steve Ridzik and Jim Konstanty combined for the Philadelphia shut out over the Cubs. Ridzik left with the bases loaded in the fifth and Konstanty finished up for his second victory.

The Pirates got to Baczewski for 11 hits but they were all singles. The Cincinnati attack included Gus Bell's third homer in two days and Jim Greengrass' second.

Washington jumped on Bob Lemon of Cleveland for five runs in the third inning, three of them coming after George Strickland threw wild on a potential double-play ball. Dean Stone, a rookie, won his fourth straight for the Senators.

Boston's hopes of climbing out of second division received a double setback from Joe Coleman and Duane Pillette of the Orioles. Coleman spaced seven hits in winning his seventh game in the opener. Pillette allowed only five in the nightcap shutout.

Lawrence Gets 65 In Virginia Beach Opener

By ROBERT MOORE
VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (P)—The eyes of Texas might well be focused today on another of the Lone Star State's native sons—Palmer Lawrence.

For Lawrence, a 27-year-old rust-haired fellow from Arlington, Tex., may become one of the next big stars in big-time professional golf's glaring spotlight.

Lawrence made his debut yesterday on the tournament circuit and carved a neat 4-under-par 65 in the opening round of the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open being played over the par-69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout.

Palmer's performance left him tied with three other aces for second place and only a stroke behind temperamental Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., as the tournament moved today into its second round.

"I never realized I was shooting such a round until we teed off on the 15th hole," said the slightly bald Lawrence, who captained North Texas State's national collegiate champions of 1948. "I'm on the circuit to stay, and I'm out for the top money every time I tee off."

Lawrence, who turned professional in 1949, won't become a full-fledged member of the Professional Golfers Assn. until Aug. 1.

Deadlocked with Lawrence were Leo Biagetti, Sandusky, Ohio; Gardner Dickinson, Palm Springs, Calif.; and Shelley Mayfield, Chiocopee, Mass.

Four were tied with 66s—Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill.; Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C.; Ivan Gantz, Elmwood, Ind.; and a amateur Thomas W. Strange Jr., Norfolk, Va.

Record Field May Go In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (P)—The entry box for the 86th running of the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes opens today and it's possible the largest field in 77 years will be named for the last of the triple crown classics for 3-year-olds.

The latest nose count of Belmont barns indicated 13 might parade postward in the mile-and-one-half ramble once around Belmont's oval.

King Ranch's High Gun, winner of last Saturday's Peter Pan, may start as the favorite, but the post-time condition of two other colts could have a big effect in the race.

The Llaganell Farm's Porterhouse and Robert S. Lytle's Correlation have been nursing aches and pains, but seem to be recuperating.

Fisherman, probably the smallest horse in the field, could make it three Belmonts for Sonny Whitney. Fisherman is a son of Phalanx, who won it in 1947. Counterpoint repeated for Whitney in 1951.

Absence of Determine, the Derby winner, and Hasty Road who took the Preakness, accounts in part for the big bunch of contenders here.

Special Races Set At Canfield Track

In addition to the usual racing activities at the Canfield speedway this month, promoter Charles Findlay has announced two special programs.

Wednesday, June 23, midjet racing will be in the spotlight. On Saturday, June 26, the late model cars which made a big hit at the speedway in the Memorial Day 100-mile classic, will again be back at Canfield.

This time, however, they will stage a 100-lap race on the quarter-mile oval.

Tomorrow night, the regular eight race sportsman and hard top division races will be held as usual.

NAMED HEAD COACH

OHIO SPORTS SHORTS
NEW LONDON, Ohio (P)—Donald H. Jerry of New Castle, Pa., has been named head football coach at New London High School, replacing Ken Wable, who is joining the Washington High School staff at Massillon, Jerry, who comes to New London from Tiffin-Columbiana high school, has also piloted teams at Cadiz, where his 1950 squad went undefeated and won a conference championship, and at Shadyside. He is a graduate of Muskingum College.

Selby Leads Into 2nd Round Of Amateur Play

ST. LOUIS (P)—Raleigh M. Selby of New London, Tex., led the way into the second round of the men's division of the Westborough Round Robin Golf Tournament today with the best point score although eight other amateurs turned in better medal scores yesterday.

Barbara McIntire, Toledo, Ohio, leading the women's division on points, equalled the best round ever made in the event by a woman by firing a first round 69, two under women's par. This gave her a plus 24 points.

Sixteen men and nine women; 16

ateurs, are entered. The women shoot two rounds today and wind up with a single round tomorrow. The men have a single round today, two rounds tomorrow, and finish up with a single round Sunday.

BOXING SHOW POSTPONED
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (P)—An outdoor boxing show scheduled for last night at Idora Park was postponed because of threatening weather. The show, which featured a bout between Bobby Hughes of Warren and Earl Charity, will be staged sometime next week, the date to be announced later.

Regalado Benched, Smith To Play 3rd, Westlake Left Field

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland's wily Indians start a five-game series against the Red Sox tonight, with their two leading hitters and their morale immobilized.

Dragging at the plate and in the field, the Tribe dropped the rubber game of their series with the fifth-place Washington Nationals yesterday, 8-4.

The Indians lost the opener, 5-2, Tuesday, largely because of ragged hitting. Their single victory the following day, a 1-0 affair, came when Mike Garcia outdueled Bob Porterfield, and the Indians managed to snag only four hits against five for Washington.

It was the Nationals, in the first game of the series, who jolted Cleveland out of the league's first place, a spot it had occupied since May 16.

Now the Tribe stands a game and a half behind the Chicago White Sox, and two and a half ahead of the New York Yankees.

The chip-fractures that put Al Rosen and Bob Avila out of the Indians' batting lineup have also weakened the right side of the Tribe's infield.

In yesterday's game, pitcher Bob Lemon dropped his third decision after seven victories and was chased in the sixth inning. Wash-

Marciano Boxes Hard In Training

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Training camp or Yankee Stadium, it's all the same to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. Every round is a "war," as he prepares for his title bout with Ezzard Charles in New York next Thursday.

For one buck, spectators at Rocky's airport drill shed see more action than they usually do in most headline shows each week.

As a matter of fact, Rocky, in one 10-second trade with Willie Wilson yesterday, produced more fireworks than the recent Coley Wallace-Bill Gilliam and Joe Bakshi-Bob Walker television fights put together.

Rocky's sparring partners, Wilson, Bob Golden, Toxie Hall and Keen Simmons, are told by manager Al Weill to "get in there and fight."

They do just that. But they wear heavily padded headguards and 16 ounce gloves. Six-ounce mittens are used for championship fights.

Rocky dishes it out in camp and takes it, too. The champ is a puncher and takes his lumps to get in his own bookend, like he does in fights.

Jersey Joe Walcott, who visited both Charles and Marciano yesterday, predicted that Charles would beat Rocky "easy."

"He's wide open to left hand shots," said Jersey Joe of Marciano, the man who knocked him out twice. "Charles has a fine left hook and is a very good boxer."

Joey Giardello Favored Over Jones Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—A week ago the news of a "fight fix" attempt startled the nation. Tonight the fight is to be held at Madison Square Garden with Joey Giardello boxing Bobby Jones.

Jones turned down a reported $15,000 bribe, allegedly offered by heavyweight Clarence Henry, to "fix" the Giardello fight and the district attorney's office launched a full-scale investigation. For a week Jones has trained with a detective as a bodyguard, day and night.

Despite the arrests and publicity, Giardello still remains a 2-1 favorite over the 28-year-old Oakland, Calif. Boxer, just as he did a week ago.

The 10-round middleweight match will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) with two judges and a referee giving a decision on a round basis.

It is scheduled for 9 p.m., EST. Jones' record never was too interesting until he upset Gil Turner in March and stopped him in a rematch, both at Philadelphia. As a result he moved up to the No. 7 spot in the middleweight rankings. He is a cagey boxer with a 37-19 record for 64 bouts and only five knockouts in a career dating back to 1945.

Giardello was set for a title bout with Bobo Olson in October until he was upset by Pierre Langlois May 21. After the Langlois defeat he was dropped from No. 1 contender to the No. 3 spot. The Philadelphia boxer's record is 49-11-5 for 65 bouts.

Giardello was set for a title bout with Bobo Olson in October until he was upset by Pierre Langlois May 21. After the Langlois defeat he was dropped from No. 1 contender to the No. 3 spot. The Philadelphia boxer's record is 49-11-5 for 65 bouts.

All-Star Baseball Team Voting Begins

CHICAGO (AP)—The 23-day, worldwide all-star baseball pool opened today with fans casting ballots for starting American and National League lineups for the 21st inter-league game in Cleveland July 13.

The voters will name eight players for each team, one at each position except pitcher. The hurlers will be selected by the All-star managers, Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Walter Alton of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Chicago Tribune, clearing house for the votes, said that more than 200 newspapers, radio and television stations in the United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Mexico, will co-operate in conducting the poll.

Confident Santee Faces Josy Barthel Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was a confident Wes Santee of Kansas and a cautious Josy Barthel of Luxembourg who awaited their duel at one mile in Memorial Coliseum tonight.

Opposing each other for the first time, the race found Santee, America's premier miler, favored to defeat the 1,500-meter champion of the 1952 Olympic games.

Apparently the race was to be more of a man-against-man struggle than a run against the clock. But Santee, for one, felt that he might match or break the epic record of 3:59.4 set last May 6 at Oxford by England's Roger Bannister, if all conditions are right.

Eljer Defeats Fishers 5-3 In Little League

Eljer defeated Fishers 5-3 in the lone Little League game played at Centennial Park last night.

Linder homered in the sixth inning with one man on base to win the game for Eljer. Lambert hit safely twice for the winners.

The teams collected six hits each. Fishers took a 2-1 first inning lead but fell behind in the fourth and then tied the game again in the fifth with one run.

After Ezzard Charles, Where Does Rocky Go?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — When Rocky Marciano beat Jersey Joe Walcott to a right hand lead in Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952, the new champion was left with only two bona-fide challengers.

One was Old Joe himself and he went out of there in a hurry the next time around in Chicago.

The other is Ezzard Charles. Ezzard the Gizzard is the only pretender who can be discussed without first applying tongue vigorously to cheek.

Roland LaStarza, a nice guy who never got rough enough to be a dangerous fighter, was given the first crack ahead of Charles, but that was a strictly a little touch of the highly intricate beak busting business. LaStarza was given the opportunity on the grounds that he stirred up some little trouble for Marciano in their salad days.

Then perhaps the International Boxing Club decided that Charles had his full allotment of whacks at the throne room. This is the Cincinnati 33-year-old fourth chance, giving you a rough idea of just how rapidly bright new heavyweights are developing.

IN CHARLES, we have a bloke who, off his talent and record, figures to at least have a Chinaman's chance of outstepping Marciano. Style, the thing that can give an inferior fighter a slight bulge against the best, is the big thing here.

The way to fight Marciano, and come out alive, is to stay in the middle of the ring, move from side to side, make the rock thrower miss and counter quickly. Charles is capable of all this and possesses a punch stiff enough to cut up the Brooklyn Block Buster in a set-up such as this.

But because of Charles' numerous disappointments, style is about all there is to sell in the scheduled 15-rounder at Yankee Stadium June 17.

The question raised here is what will happen if the strong-armed champion disposes of Charles as expected. Where does he go from here? The answer must be: exactly nowhere.

Hurricane Jackson will knock out Nino Valdes at Madison Square Garden July 21. Don Cockell was blasted out by Randy Turpin. Jackson was vastly pleasing and slightly phenomenal clubbing Dan Bucceroni into a state of complete exhaustion, but since then his obvious flaws have showed up and you shudder at the wide-open illiterate exposing his chin and midsection to Marciano's heavy concentrated fire.

So it looks like Al Weill will have to take Marciano on a Bum-of-the-Month Club tour, a la Joe Louis.

TO SEE THE upcoming engagement, you've got to either be there in person or spend a couple of bucks for theater TV. There is enough public enthusiasm, wrapped around Charles' chance of being the first to regain the heavyweight title for this one to draw.

If Rocky Marciano appears in any more title bouts after this one, however, the notion here is that it will be on the video screen, with a sponsor footing the bill.

There simply won't be enough people willing to pay cash to have it any other way.

Derby Notes

Every Racer Must Have Sturdy Brakes

Every Soap Box Derby racer must have a sturdy, safe brake that will stop it safely in a straight line.

The brake must be operated by a foot pedal. Hand, hydraulic or other types of mechanical brakes are not permitted.

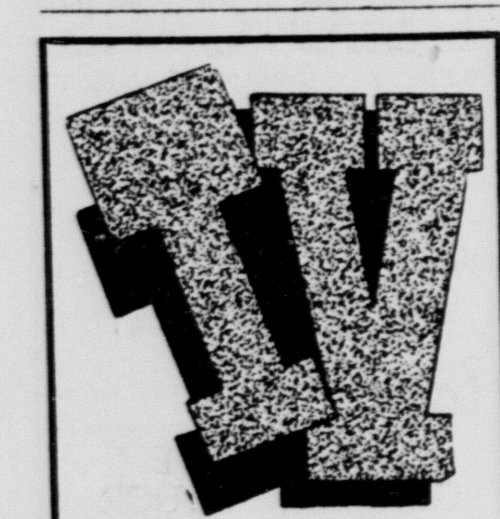

Brake facing can be made of an old piece of tire tread or "equally effective material." This piece must be large enough so that an area of at least nine square inches touches the ground when the brake is applied. Facing must be bolted to the brake shoe and bolts must be countersunk so bolt heads do not touch the ground when the brake is applied.

The brake facing must not be more than 18 inches from the extreme rear of the car before the brake is applied. So the car will stop in a straight line, the brake facing must be placed in the exact center of the car, measured from side to side.

Eye-bolts must be used in attaching brake cables. Screws, staples and nails are not allowed. Eye-bolts, pulleys or metal tubing may be used to guide brake cables. Turnbuckles must be used in brake cable for adjusting purposes.

Take extreme care in positioning your brake. Make sure it meets rule book requirements.

Industrial Payroll Drops Here In May

Salem's industrial payroll, prepaid sales tax collections and postal receipts are down for May, 1954, compared to May, 1953, according to the Chamber of Commerce.

Industrial income last month dropped $98,129.95 below the May, 1953 figure. Last month's payroll was $1,622,620.64 and compared to $1,720,749.59 paid out in May, 1953.

Prepaid sales tax receipts for May in Salem took a $8,575.94 tumble below collections for the same month last year. Collections last month totaled $36,728.01 and compared to $45,303.95 in sales for May, 1953.

Postal receipts followed the same trend, with last month's collections of $18,361.32 dropping under May, 1953's receipts of $20,017.88.

Building permits were issued for nine residences, garages and remodeling and repair work with a total evaluation of $128,490 were issued during May.

The Chamber of Commerce, which normally meets once a month at the Cape Hotel, will not hold meetings during July and August.

Boys Nabbed for Stealing 42 Birds From Zoo

TOKYO (AP)—Police caught up today with four boys bandits accused of stealing 42 birds from the Tokyo zoo and selling them for money to go to the movies.

The youths claimed ownership of an egg laid during the escape. Police seized the egg as evidence and threw the boys in the coop.

MARTHA WAYNE

The U.S. Supreme Court Monday cleared the way for the St. Lawrence River power project, which will be developed as a joint operation by the State of New York and Canada's Province of Ontario. The project will be an integral part of the Seaway plan for permitting ocean-going ships to enter the Great Lakes.

The following day the Senate Public Works Committee voted to

The power authority's chances of building the new power plants were given a major boost this week by the action of the Senate Public Works Committee. Federal law requires the Federal Power Commission to give preference to public bodies—such as New York State—over a private applicant if the proposals are equally acceptable to the commission. The proposals of the state and the five-company group are virtually identical.

First grade, Mrs. Lorin Cameron and Mrs. John Blasman; second, Mrs. Willard Close and Mrs. Dwight Phillips; third, Mrs. Frank Wuthrick and Joyce Whitehead; fourth, Mrs. Robert Bell and Mrs. Hilda Spack; fifth and sixth, Mrs. Ethel Cameron and Mrs. Merle Shreve; seventh and eighth, Mrs. Murtle Ryser.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Shreve entertained at their home Monday evening honoring their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Larkin, Lynn and Becky of Mowerstown. Larkin was teacher in Goshen High School for years ago when he and Mrs. Larkin resided here. The Larkins also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Larkin on a trip to Niagara Falls and points in Ontario, Canada, and points in the north over the week-end. Frank Bauman of Franklin, Ind., visited Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bauman and Mrs. Iva Bauman last week.
